Volume 23 No. 8

Sept/Oct 2013 Edition (910) 323-3120

Fayetteville, NC

Over the past six years as a Fayetteville City Councilwoman, I've had the pleasure of meeting many of you across our city. Perhaps our paths crossed at church, at a community meeting, or in line at the Fort Bragg commissary. Wherever we've met, there's a good chance that I've asked you to tell me something about your life or asked you to tell me your story. Our encounters have been a source of inspiration as I continue to serve the city I've grown to love.

Together we've had great successes and have dealt with very sensitive and difficult issues in our community. While you may not have always agreed with my positions, particularly dealing with racial profiling, my goal has always been to make the best decisions I could with the information I had. In this case, I was determined to find real solutions to a pressing issue while complying with the law. While the courts ultimately supported beliefs, I am most proud to have made the motion to the City Council to fund cameras in police cars and study circles; it passed unanimously. My efforts are making a real difference in Fayetteville. I will continue to work to ensure the rights of all of our citizens are protected.

In the future I will do a better job helping you to understand my positions; it's always better for you to hear things first hand. Please know that I am committed to having a Police Department that is RESPECTFUL OF its citizens and RESPECTED BY its citizens. As your Mayor, I will do everything possible to make sure that that happens; it's a commitment I am making to each of you. In return, I ask you to partner with the Police Department to build relationships and reduce crime in our community.

There are some that believe this election can be bought. They will misrepresent who I am and what I believe. It's the oldest political strategy in the book, used time and time again. You know it and I know it, so let's not fall for it. There is clearly no other candidate for Mayor that understands your experiences, is more committed or better qualified to lead this city. I have a proven record of leadership and results that have improved your quality of life. Let's resist the diversionary tactics of this political season and "Keep Our Eyes on the Prize".

Your vote will determine the outcome of this election and your voice will set a pathway for opportunity and success. With your support, I look forward to serving this community with passion and vision as the first African American woman Mayor of our All-America City. I believe all things are possible.

One stop voting begins September 19th - October 5th at the Cumberland County Board of Elections located at 227 Fountainhead Lane. You can cast your early vote from 8-5, Monday through Friday and Saturday from 9-1. The primary election is October 8th. Let's win during early vote!

Will you stand with ME and VOTE for YOUR FUTURE?

Visit my website at WWW.VALAPPLEWHITE.COM or stop by our campaign office at 109 Green Street Suite 300, downtown Fayetteville or call us at 910-261-8949. I'd love for you to be a part of this campaign.

Val APPLEWHITE For Mayor

Fayetteville can count on Val Applewhite.

A veteran and lifetime public servant, Val will always stand up for us, not political insiders. She'll fight against the special interests that are wasting our tax dollars and standing in the way of real progress for our city.

AS OUR MAYOR, VAL WILL FIGHT FOR:

★ Protecting Our Homes and Our Children

When it comes to crime, Val won't back down. She will work hard to reduce violent crime and crack down on the gangs that threaten our safety. Val will prioritize increasing the police presence on our streets and establishing programs to channel young people away from the influences of gangs and drugs.

★ Quality Jobs and Stronger Businesses

Fayetteville needs more jobs that can support a family. Val will take real steps that will foster the growth of small businesses in Fayetteville, and she will provide incentives to local businesses that hire workers here at home with a "Hire Fayetteville First" program.

★ Cutting Waste and Improving Services

Val knows that our tax dollars are too important to waste. A military-trained communications specialist, Val will work to find new, efficient ways to deliver vital city services. She will emphasize programs that reduce crime and increase employment.

VOTE AUDREY "SISTER" RAY FOR CITY COUNCIL DISTRICT 3

Proven Experience Counts

This is our new day. We can make the first step together to move District 3 and the City of Fayetteville forward. My name is Audrey Ray, and I am affectionately known as "Sister Ray." The name

"Sister" is tied to my faith. Many of you may know me from Rise Newspaper and Gospel Showcase television show. My work in the community is a testament to my sincerity and commitment to engaging with others, and empowering and celebrating them.

"My vision for District 3" - I will work to build trust. I believe elected officials need to be accessible to residents, and service for me is a passion. I support the Vision 2024 statement of having "a sustainable community with opportunities for individuals and families to thrive."

"On the Move Summit- A plan for action." We are better together, and I want to create partnerships that strive to enhance the quality of life. During the first six months after my election, I will host an On the Move Summit. We will try to identify factors that have contributed to the decline of vibrant neighborhoods and come up with specific goals that will be reviewed each quarter. We will look at the history of the neighborhood and how to recapture what made it great. I know that citizens want to be involved. One year ago, I held a "State of the Community Census Forum," at Fayetteville State University. Thirty groups were mobilized as a result -- we knocked on doors and encouraged 5,000 historically undercounted households to participate in the US Census. The impact was more federal dollars for Fayetteville.

When citizens are engaged to participate public trust grows. I want to hear from you.

"Safer Neighborhoods" - I support Fayetteville Police Chief Harold Medlock's plan to help make our streets safer.

The increased visibility of officers is effective, as is community policing. Recently, I was standing on Jasper Street, off Murchison Road, and an officer approached and greeted me. He told me of an event that was planned at the intersection of Murchison and Jasper, and within minutes he had me interested in participating. I became the faith-based co-coordinator for that event. If every resident would get a dose of that kind of "Citizen Engagement Magic," just one dose, what great things we could accomplish together!

In support of safe neighborhoods, I favor increased access to police by neighbors and a better police response, especially when public safety emergencies arise, from crimes to medical emergencies to fires. Among other things, I would study police tracking data of crime trends in the district. I support City Council member Bill Crisp's idea of having a task force on crime and another on economic development. When we build a better city image, and offer opportunity, people will come.

"The value of volunteerism" - I always encourage citizens to volunteer. I will work to re-establish inactive community watch groups. I also want to establish, with the help of volunteers, a Senior Pal program to enhance delivery of services to seniors. I also support a one-stop senior center. There are many seniors who have contributed in their own way and we have a responsibility to look out for them. Caring is a good thing.

"Fiscal responsibility" As your elected official, I would be working for you. It is your taxpayer dollars. My years of

Audrey "Sister" Ray has-
*Established a $10,000 endowment scholarship for FSU students

* Received SACCADV Woman of Destiny Award for her vast contributions to women who were victims of domestic abuse.

*Received the FSU Chancellor's Certificate of Merit at a Founder's Day Convocation for service to the local community, the university and state.

*Received the prestigious Dr. Lorine C. McLeod Award for service.

*Sponsored Women of Excellence, Men of Honor, Jubilee Family Empowerment Day and Senior Christmas parties; celebrating hundreds and feeding thousands.

financial experience will be an asset. I understand municipal budgets and where money can be saved. For example, every time a truck comes into a neighborhood and picks up one pile of limbs and passes by five more, because no one called, it costs the taxpayers money. Somebody has to pay for the gas. The solid waste disposal process needs to be addressed. "Experienced problem-solver"- My professional experience includes working as a legislative assistant in the N.C. General Assembly. While there, I assisted in the crafting of three bills which became NC state law. The bills: *provided honorary diplomas to WWII veterans whose schooling was interrupted by the draft;

*provided bilingual language instruction to be placed on the N.C. state ballot; and *allowed for relatives of a person to accompany him or her into the voting booth. Among issues I support are programs to help veterans suffering from post-traumatic stress syndrome and initiatives that help women who are victims of domestic violence. My resume includes many programs that foster unity and empower individuals and families. I have helped hundreds of individuals and families during their time of personal crisis. Put my experience to work for you. I ask for your prayers and support. I ask you to vote for Audrey "Sister" Ray for City Council, District 3.

VOTE FOR QUALIFIED PROVEN EXPERIENCE

"Let my legislative assistant experience in the North Carolina General Assembly and my 20 years of public service experience work for you! We can build a better district and city. I ask for your vote." - Audrey "Sister" Ray Paid for by the People to elect Audrey "Sister" Ray for City Council.

Take Charge of Your Health:

Get your Vitamin D

We've all heard reports that too much sun exposure can lead to skin cancer. But can too little sun be dangerous as well? Health experts say yes.

Too little sun can lead to vitamin D deficiency, a condition that can be dangerous, particularly for African Americans.

Vitamin D is produced in response to sun exposure. It is vital to your body's absorption of calcium. People with vitamin D deficiency are able to absorb only one-third as much calcium as those with sufficient levels. Calcium is needed to build strong bones and healthy muscles, so vitamin D is key to avoiding bone-softening diseases like rickets and osteoporosis. Current studies, however, show it can also lessen your risk for developing conditions such as cancer, diabetes and cardiovascular disease.

Yet geneticist Rick Kittles, an associate professor at the University of Chicago, warns that nearly 75 percent of African Americans are vitamin D insufficient.

"The brown-black pigment, which is in our skin and gives us eye color and hair color, is a protector of our skin cells from too much ultraviolet radiation," he says.

It is the ultraviolet radiation that is needed to produce vitamin D in the body. Thus darker-skinned people may need more than 20 times as much exposure to sunlight as those with fairer skin to produce the same amount of vitamin D.

What can you do to improve the level of vitamin D in your blood? First, a little bit of sun exposure goes a long way. As little as 10 minutes a few times a week can produce thousands of units of vitamin D. Slightly more time is required for those with darker skin.

Calcium supplements with vitamin D included are also available in your local drugstore, and there are a variety of foods that are a good source of vitamin D. Among these foods are fatty fish, such as salmon or mackerel, egg yolks, breakfast cereals, milk and some juices.

When in doubt, visit your physician. Kittles says your doctor can look at the breakdown of vitamin D in the blood and let you know if you are deficient. He or she can also make qualified recommendations on how improve your levels and thus take charge of your health and vitamin D levels.

North Carolina's Tea Party Nightmares

By Jesse Jackson, Sr.
NNPA Columnist

Black Press USA- North Carolina — once poster child for the New South — now displays the nightmares spawned by the Tea Party right no longer restrained by the Voting Rights Act after the Supreme Court's conservative gang of five disemboweled it in the Shelby case.

In North Carolina, Republicans took the General Assembly in 2010 and the governorship in 2012. The takeover received rather unprecedented support from one right-wing multimillionaire, Art Pope — who, according to progressive publication The American Prospect, singlehandedly provided about 80 percent of the funding for the state's conservative groups.

Upon taking control, the Republicans began systematically dismantling the social infrastructure of the state. They slashed taxes on the top 5 percent and raised them on the bottom 95 percent. They eliminated the earned-income tax credit for 900,000 low-wage workers. They cut Medicaid coverage for 500,000. They ended unemployment benefits for 170,000. They threw about 30,000 kids out of pre-K, while transferring $90 million from public schools to vouchers. They voted to allow guns purchased without a background check to be carried in parks, restaurant and bars. As the Rev. William Barber II, president of the North Carolina NAACP, put it: "They've drank all the Tea Party they could drink and sniffed all the Koch that they could sniff."

These radically reactionary measures didn't exactly meet with popular approval. The approval rating of the state legislature is down to about 23 percent. So Republicans set out to consolidate their unpopular rule by gerrymandering districts to re-segregate voters and weaken their opponents' base. And they just pushed through the most radical assault on voting rights in modern memory.

In one "omnibus bill," the legislature would create restrictive voter ID procedures that will disqualify estimated 318,000-registered voters. They cut a week out of early voting time, ended same day registration, eliminates state-supported voter registration drives and ended pre-registration of 16- and 17-year-olds. They require more frequent purges of voter rolls, and prohibit extending poll hours on Election Day, even if there are long lines still waiting to vote. They even eliminated Citizen Awareness Month that encouraged citizens to register and vote. North Carolina had featured some of the most enlightened election laws and ranked in the top 15 states of voter turnout nationally. With passage of this law, they are intent on driving that down.

Now the question is whether the citizens of North Carolina will allow their government to be hijacked by deep pocket donors and their rights trampled by antidemocratic zealots.

The Rev. Barber says this will not stand. "If you think you can take away our voting rights, you'll have a headache," he vowed.

He started organizing what became Moral Mondays, weekly demonstrations that drew thousands in protest to the state's capital. By the end of July, some 900 people had been arrested in nonviolent civil disobedience. Now, when the legislature closes down in August, the Rev. Barber plans a bus tour through 25 counties to register citizens to vote and to protest the cruel measures.

With its decisions opening the floodgates on corporate money in Citizens United and rolling back the Voting Rights Act, the conservative gang of five on the Supreme Court has opened the way for the North Carolina nightmare. And North Carolina is not alone.

Across the country, Republicans are seeking to roll back voting rights even as they push to gut vital social programs. Citizens of conscience have no choice but to rally once more to protect our rights.

Moral Monday in North Carolina shows the way. In North Carolina, the reaction to the reaction may just have begun.

Women's Empowerment Conference 2013

Sept 12, 14 & 15 at Second Chance Ministries 1028 Pamalee Drive in Fayetteville

1077 Jamz Radio personality Lady G is definitely one of Fayetteville's outstanding role models; she accepts this role willingly and responsibly.

In 1984, Fayetteville native Rosa "Lady Gospel" Faison, began her journey to be among the best gospel radio announcers in North Carolina. She graduated from broadcasting school in Charlotte.

Over the years, Lady G has maneuvered in the Fayetteville area, from WIDU, WFAI, WMFA (Raeford), and FOXY 99, and now to 1077 JAMZ. She is a celebrated gospel announcer and has been nominated for numerous awards: Inside Gospel's "Best Gospel Announcer," and the NC Gospel Announcer Guild of the Gospel Workshop of America nominated her for Announcer of the Year.

Lady G is the dedicated wife of Pastor Anthony Faison, the proud mother of 3, Jennifer and Tandy, and James McMillian, and through marriage, she has a daughter Danielle. High school graduate and college student Deiontae, is her oldest grandchild. Then, there's Darnell, Raenell, Alexis, Josiah, Gabriel, Taurus, Mikayia, Christian, James, Jr. and Montaeja. Her siblings are Dwight, Randall and the late Carolyn Wilson. Her parents are Bishop O.T. and Mother Annie Johnson.

September 12, 14, and 15, (Thursday, Saturday and Sunday), Lady G is hosting the Women's Empowerment Conference 2013 at Sec-

Lady G 1077 JAMZ
Sunday Morning 6 to 11

ond Chance Ministries, 1028 Pamalee Drive in Fayetteville. On Thursday, September 12 at 7:30 PM, Susie McLean from Red Springs of God at Work Ministry is the guest speaker. Men are also invited. Saturday, September 14 at 10AM, is the Rainbow Brunch w/light Hors d'oeuvres. The Keynote Speaker is veteran broadcaster Omega Jones. Omega is the founder of Omega Health & Outreach. Lady G also welcomes recording Artist Wendy Peterson. There's also a Dance Ministry with Minister Danielle Land. It's for Women Only, and donations are only $10.

Then, Sunday, September 15 at 3PM, Pastor Shirley Williams of Greater Mt. Calvary Church from Parkton, is the guest speaker. Men are also welcomed to attend on Sunday.

The Conference empowers the body of Christ to become aware of distractions that will hinder us from fulfilling God's purpose. It also motivates us to stay focused and be equipped to serve God.

With everything that is going on today with the economy as well as countries in conflicts, it is easy to lose focus and give up. However, as people and most important as women, we have to remain encouraged and continue to build the Kingdom of God. Our theme this year is: Ladies Rise To The Occasion!

"Be Equipped To Serve".

As ladies, we serve in various capacities as mothers, wives, and through our careers. In addition, we serve spiritually, as Pastors, Pastors Wives dutifully supporting the vision of the church and working faithfully out front and behind the scenes. Sometimes, we might get tired, but we can't let the weary and faint slow us down. If we stay strong, we will get a great reward.

If any man serve me let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: If any man serves me, him will my Father honor. John 22:26

"I want to bring ladies together at the Rainbow Brunch to share and encourage each other to grow smarter, stronger and wiser," Lady G said. "This is the perfect opportunity to make time for ourselves. It also gives us a chance to address some of the life changing health issues we face. Heart disease; diabetes; obesity, stress issues, and strokes are a few example. All of these can critically impact our lives."

Lady G says, "We need some 'Me Time' to relax and pamper ourselves. Then, we can serve in the natural as well as the spiritual. To care for our families, we need to be healthy, and stay active in our careers. This is especially true for those who also work tirelessly in the ministry."

Pastor Anthony and Lady G conceived the idea for the conference to bring awareness of their church, Second Chance Ministries. "We are new pastors in the community (9 months). This conference also serves as a fundraiser for our Annual Toy Drive that supports neglected and abused children. Sometimes we get so caught up in what's going on around us, we don't stop to enjoy what's in front of us, our families, and friends—those who make a difference in our lives. Let's come together and impact each other's lives."

Lady G can be heard every Sunday with Pastor Anthony on Sunday Morning Inspiration on 1077 JAMZ, 6AM-11AM.

FORMULA FOR OVERCOMING YOUR INFERIORITY COMPLEX

We could not begin to tell you how many ask the question, "How can I rid myself of my inferiority complex?" Perhaps nothing so plagues and harasses human beings as the crippling, misery-producing feeling of personal inadequacy. You can be cured of this trouble even though you have probably suffered from it since childhood.

You do not need to shrink before anybody or anything, and in the next fifteen minutes, you can start the process which will lead to the end of your inferiority feelings.

1. Stamp indelibly on your mind a mental picture of yourself succeeding. Your mind will seek to develop this picture. Never think of yourself as failing. That is most dangerous, for the mind always tries to complete what it pictures. So ALWAYS picture "success."

2. Whenever a negative thought about yourself comes to mind, deliberately voice a positive thought to cancel it out.

3. Do not build up obstacles in your imagination. Depreciate ever so-called obstacle. Minimize them. Difficulties must be studied to be eliminated, but they must be seen for only what they are and must not be inflated by fear thoughts.

4. Do not be awestruck by other people and try to copy them. Nobody can be you as efficiently as YOU can. Remember also that most people, despite their confident appearance and demeanor, are as scared of things as you are.

5. Repeat ten times a day these words, "If God be FOR me, who can be AGAINST me." (Repeat them NOW slowly and confidently.)

6. Get a competent counselor to help you understand why you do what you do. Learn the origin of your inferiority feelings which often begin in childhood. Self-knowledge leads to a cure.

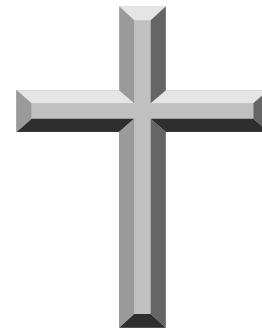

7. Ten times each day, practice the following affirmation, repeating it out loud if possible. "I can do all things through Christ who giveth me the strength." Repeat those words NOW. These words constitute the most powerful antidote on earth to inferiority thoughts.

8. Make a true estimate of your own ability, then raise it ten percent. Do not become egotistical, but develop a wholesome self-respect. Do that NOW.

9. Put yourself in God's hands and believe you are NOW receiving all the power you need.
